

The Sackcloth Times

A Publication of Faith On The Earth

April 2010

And we know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in wickedness. - 1 John 5:19

28And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not convenient;

29Being filled with all unrighteousness, fornication, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness; full of envy, murder, debate, deceit, malignity; whisperers,

30Backbiters, haters of God, despiteful, proud, boast-ers, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents,

31Without understanding, covenantbreakers, without natural affection, implacable, unmerciful:

32Who knowing the judgment of God, that they which commit such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but have pleasure in them that do them.

Romans 1:28-32

THE REPROBATES' DETERMINATION TO PAINT JESUS AS GAY

A sure sign of a reprobate mind is the acceptance of the homosexual lifestyle. When an individual can look past the natural inclination of men towards women, and women towards men, and the simple common sense that only two of the opposite sex can reproduce, that individual has been given over, by God, to their own lusts and evil imaginations.

They are determined to live in wickedness. There is no help for them, except a miracle. But they do not believe in miracles. They believe in themselves, and hence become "inventors of evil things."

In a February 19 Parade magazine interview, singer/songwriter Elton John stated, "I think Jesus was a compassionate, super-intelligent gay man who understood human problems. On the cross, he forgave the people who crucified him. Jesus wanted us to be loving and forgiving. I don't know what makes people so cruel. Try being a gay woman in the Middle East - you're as good as dead."

Elton John "married" his homosexual partner, David Furnish, in a ceremony in Great Britain several years ago.

After he outraged many people with his statement, he tried to say he was actually saying something different: "I think everyone's individual faith is their own business. And I do believe in Jesus, and I do believe he was a compassionate person. And I see him from my point of view, and that's just my point of view, as a compassionate gay person - someone who was persecuted, someone who forgave people...That's how I see him. That's my idea of faith... If I've offended anybody, I don't see why they should be offended by it, because I'm not saying, 'That's how he definitely was'.... I don't really want to cause a controversy."

Oh yes, that is what he was saying. He referred to the Son of God as a "super-intelligent gay man" and then tried to calm the criticism he received and take it back. He first blasphemes God Almighty, and then dares to compare himself with Him. Are we to gather that only gay men are compassionate people?

This sick and twisted portrayal of Jesus, our Lord and Savior, is becoming a fad among homosexuals.

What else can these reprobates do? They are already an abomination. What is the next step beyond abomination? Lately it seems the whole world has gone gay - music, TV and movie personalities are coming out of the closet in record numbers - whether they are, or were, once married, or have children, or had never had homosexual tendencies in the past. Now they are either trying to make Jesus gay, or make Him identify with them.

If they want to come out of the closet, that's one thing. But they better dare not try to take Almighty God out of the closet too. He is the one who is going to slam the closet door in their faces at the Judgment.

There is a play that will be performed this weekend (March 27) at Tarleton State University in Texas. The play, Corpus Christi, depicts Jesus and His disciples as gay. "The play is about acceptance and tolerance," gay student director John Jordan Otte said.

According to a World Net Daily report, "Saturday's production in the small town of Stephenville, Texas, features the Jesus character named Joshua kissing Judas during their prom at Pontius Pilate High School and performing a same-sex marriage for two of his disciples.

"Before the ceremony, a disciple named James pauses and quotes the Old Testament Scripture: 'If a man lies with a man as with a woman, both of them have committed an abomination; they shall be put to death, their blood is upon them.'

“Joshua then responds: ‘Why would you memorize such a terrible passage?’ ‘And God saw everything that He had made, and behold it was very good.’ ... God loves us most when we love each other.”

This is how sodomites want the world to see them - as compassionate, loving beings like God. Like most in this lost and broken world, they will take the passages of scripture that they can twist to justify their lusts (usually of the “God is loving” variety) and throw away scriptures that are blatant statements against what they do.

It is true that God saw what He made and called it good. It is also true that God saw what mankind did to what He made, and He called it wickedness.

Very soon the cry of “Tolerance!” is going to be overtaken by the cry of “Abomination!” when Jesus returns to this earth to judge the filth and blasphemy that has overtaken it.

There have never been such abominable times in human history, on such a large scale. In Noah’s day, God destroyed the sinful earth to make it new again. The earth at that time had much fewer inhabitants than it does today. In Lot’s day, God destroyed cities that were on a much smaller scale symbolic of today’s world - lying in homosexual grime and evil of every kind.

I also believe that for those who practice homosexuality, and try to make Jesus identify with them for whatever reason, there will be a greater judgment. How dare they blaspheme the Most Holy God?

MORAL DESTITUTION LEAD US TO SOCIALIZED HEALTH “CARE”

To compel a man to subsidize with his taxes the propagation of ideas which he disbelieves and abhors is sinful and tyrannical.

- Thomas Jefferson

Ellis Washington’s latest article on World Net Daily is entitled “I Blame Bush For Stalincare.” Although the article is excellent because it details politically how our government in this past century evolved from “for the people, by the people” into the rotten lot of scoundrels and Nazis we have in Washington today, it needs to go one step further and detail morally how we got here.

Washington states that we ended up with Obama because the GOP nominated George W. Bush, an “empty suit who denigrated the 20-year Reagan Revolution.” The cry was “Change!” after 8 years of Bush.

I disagree. Whatever anyone feels about G.W. Bush, 8 more years of him wouldn’t do a tiny percentage of the damage that the Obamanation has done with just one year and a few months in office.

Throughout the past century in America, there have been pushers of big government and social programs to take the place of our faith in God. If we really acted like a Christian nation and relied upon God for our needs and called upon Him in times of distress, our government would be small and insignificant in His shadow.

Health care would be between the individual and God’s care for that individual. In fact, there would be much fewer diseases and illness and much less need for the healthcare industry and it wouldn’t be the big business it is today.

Who do you want ultimately in control of your healing and health when you are not feeling well? God, who made you, cares for you, and can heal any ailment or condition you may face, or prevent sickness altogether - or a giant industry that wants you to stay sick so that you will buy more of its drugs and have to use more of its services?

The government and the healthcare industry are now hand in hand. March 21 marked a dark day in our country that has more Communistic implications than the average person even knows.

America’s judgment has come. We have taken in other gods and gone the way of the heathens. We are a pagan nation that has blasphemed the One True God one time too many and are now saturated in the consequences of it. We removed Him from our government and schools, our daily lives, and even our churches. How many “Christian” churches today actually preach the true, undiluted Word of God? When puppet shows and rock music drown out the Holy Spirit across a country in churches that consider themselves Christian, there is little hope left for that nation.

Politically, there will always be mistakes made, to say the least. God is not in favor of our human governments because Jesus Christ is the only King. I know some who go to “Christian” churches who actually voted for Obama. Did God allow them to be blinded for their lack of trust in Him, and in effect, cast a vote for evil? The more people trust in government, the less they trust in God.

While we await more earthquakes and natural disasters and other horrors prophesied in the book of Revelation, we need to take a look around us. Our judgment has come. Our economy is in shambles, our government has taken the first great step in removing our freedom totally so that they can watch our every move like hawks, and all this has been done without the vote or the will of the people. We once were citizens of a nation; we are now subjects of an oppressive government. God has cursed this land for having strayed from Him, choosing the way of the heathen by inviting in all forms of idolatrous religion, and for trusting in man and systems over Him.

So many lie to God, borrowing the term

“Christian” to define themselves and yet their hearts are far from Him. Under God, we reap what we sow. Our government, which is our curse, lies to us in everything that it does. It calls a newly implemented dictatorship “health care.” It tells us what the majority wants when actual polls tell us something different.

So how did we get here? Immorality.

There is an uprising in our land, politically speaking, those that are fed up with our government’s tyranny and people who are very determined to change the flow of the tide. And although that is a good thing - any voice that opposes the chaotic circus our government has become is a good thing! - if God is not behind this movement, it too will fail.

God must be first in our hearts and we must put our pagan gods and idols away for good. Only God must be relied upon for any positive changes instead of government.

As Psalm 127:1 states, “Except the LORD build the house, they labour in vain that build it: except the LORD keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain.”

The whole world has labored in vain. Whether we are granted a shred of mercy in these final days before full destruction comes is up to us.

IF IT EXISTS, THEY WILL TAX IT (EVEN IF IT DOESN'T EXIST,
THEY WILL TAX IT)

The World Health Organization (WHO), another self-serving farce that comes in the guise of helping people, is planning to come to the U.S. government for tax help.

They currently partly rely on voluntary contributions, but an “indirect consumer tax” would bring in, as the WHO panel stated, “a greater certainty” that money will be available to them - tens of billions of more dollars, actually.

They are proposing to tax internet transactions, such as banking and bill paying. Many people find bill paying online a convenient way to get their expenses paid with just a few minutes of time spent every month. And not having to spend the postage on every envelope is an obvious added benefit.

This benefit could soon be a thing of the past, as WHO tries to find ways to get their fingers in the mandatory taxation pie.

The tax-happy Obama administration will be all too eager to comply. After all, anything that taxes people on a global scale brings us that much closer to a one-world governmental system.

This is also the reason for the proposed “Global Warming Tax.” Even though evidence in recent months has proven that the earth is not warming as once reported, but may actually be cooling, and that those in control of previous reports manipulated the data for their own agenda, this tax will still make it through eventually.

Let’s remember God is in control of the cold and the heat on this globe. A friend alerted me to this scripture, Psalm 147-15-18, which says it all, and for believers, should refute “global warming”:

15He sendeth forth his commandment upon earth: his word runneth very swiftly.

16He giveth snow like wool: he scattereth the hoarfrost like ashes.

17He casteth forth his ice like morsels: who can stand before his cold?

18He sendeth out his word, and melteth them: he causeth his wind to blow, and the waters flow.

It becomes so clear why God wanted to be mankind’s only King and why He told Israel they should not have an earthly king. He knew that nothing but oppression, taxation and wickedness would follow, bringing mankind to a point in history when NO ONE on earth would be free.

Only in Christ is anyone free. But while here, we are now all global subjects. Beware, for the Beast has arrived.

VIRTUAL NUDITY
COMING TO AN AIRPORT NEAR YOU

The infringement of what should be every person’s basic rights continues now with the addition of full-body scanners at many of the world’s airports. The scanners show an airport employee the contours of a passenger’s body when they walk through. The image, which bypasses the passenger’s clothing and leaves nothing to the imagination, appears on a screen for the airport employees to see.

This is one writer who will never fly on an airplane again.

The audacity of such a system, which of course comes in the name of “security” - they do all this for you, remember - is another scheme of oppressive governments straight from the pit of hell.

Two Muslim women recently were in the news for refusing to go through the scanners. They had to forfeit their tickets and could not get on the plane. For all the wrong in the Muslim religion, at least their women understand the word “modesty,” a word that barely exists in most societies today.

No one should be subjected to such an invasive strip search, man, woman, or child. This is just another apparent segment of the Beast system of the world in action.

FIRE UPON THE ALTAR
by Christopher Dart

The fire shall ever be burning upon the altar; it shall never go out. - Leviticus 6:13

I was studying Leviticus and came to the above scripture. Verse 13 struck me. A solemn duty of those in leadership is to keep the fire fed. The fuel is wood. What relation that has to fear of God, prayer and worship, I don't yet understand. To be sure, those are choices; disciplines in which intellectual understanding and agreement, first, must be made. Perhaps academic intellect is as wood.

The important thing, here, is the fire's existence in our lives and Church. It is the responsibility of every believer to keep the Holy Ghost burning in his life. The only way to provide the correct fuel is our constantly praying, "Thy kingdom come, thy will be done," seeking the face of Christ and being transfigured from glory to glory as by the Holy Ghost. We must know His Word, we must do His will (to seek and to save the lost). We must believe we have the mind of Christ and let Him fill our minds with His.

As we keep focused on Jesus, the Author and Perfecter of our faith, we are changed into His glory and image. The continuation of this discipline causes the fire to continually be fed with the wood of intellect (study), prayerful agreement with Christ, and godly determination.

Should we decide to resort to good music, skillful musicians, much academic teaching and good works without staying before Christ in prayer, fasting and repentance, the fire will go out. All programs, activities and services, no matter how loud we sing, no matter how we try to work it up, will simply be dead. It will be our kindling with our own fire (recall Nadab and Abihu used strange fire before the LORD and were destroyed in the anger of the Almighty) which is not authorized. The fire must be started by God Himself.

Here is how to have the fire rekindled:

Therefore also now, saith the LORD, turn ye even to me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning...

Blow the trumpet in Zion, sanctify a fast, call a solemn assembly:

Gather the people, sanctify the congregation, assemble the elders, gather the children, and those that suck the breasts: let the bridegroom go forth of his chamber, and the bride out of her closet.

Let the priests, the ministers of the LORD, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say, Spare thy people, O LORD, and give not thine heritage to reproach, that the heathen should rule over them: wherefore should they say among the people, Where is their God?

- Joel 2:12;2:15-17

God, have mercy on me, as I write this message. I tremble before thee for this seems to hit those who are in leadership, those who I tried to submit myself to yet I have been frankly ignored and cast off as some annoying pest. I know your intentions for me, O God, that I am not a pest but one to exhort the Church and move your hand on the behalf of the Church and the lost.

My prayer is for those in leadership to have that unhindered, uninterrupted, solitary time with you, in which they can gaze upon your face and be with you, obtaining that glow as Moses who dwelt in your presence.

Right now, as I write, O God, post your angels about those saints I know and love who are in leadership of your bride, the Church, enabling them to be in your awesome presence.

Please, O God, bless and provide for those ministries who are doing your work.....

(Note: Christopher Dart's blog can be found here:
<http://www.christopherdart.blogspot.com>)

BEWARE THE HARLOT CHURCH:

The Sackcloth Times / April 2010
Printed by Faith On The Earth
1209 Lexington Pkwy
Ypsilanti, MI 48198
www.faithontheearth.com
© 2010 All rights reserved.

Feel free to make copies and distribute; any quotes or excerpts, or copies of articles in full must be attributed to this publication. Written by Paula Leanes unless otherwise noted.